

NEWS

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

July 5, 2011

For additional information, contact:
Ingrid E. Bogel, Executive Director
t 215.545.0613 e ibogel@ccaaha.org

HOLLINGER METAL EDGE, INC. NOW OFFERING CCAHA MEMBERS AN EXCLUSIVE DISCOUNT ON QUALITY ARCHIVAL PRODUCTS

July 5, 2011—Philadelphia, PA—The Conservation Center for Art & Historic Artifacts (CCAHA) has partnered with Hollinger Metal Edge, Inc., a leader in quality archival materials, to offer CCAHA members a ten percent discount on Hollinger Metal Edge products, from storage boxes and file folders to book supports and collections maintenance supplies.*

“Storing collection items in high quality, archival materials that protect and support them is one of the best steps an institution can take to preserve its collections,” said Ingrid E. Bogel, CCAHA Executive Director. “CCAHA is pleased to provide our members with this opportunity as they work to meet preservation goals for their extraordinary collections.”

Hollinger Metal Edge, Inc. has been the leading supplier of archival storage products for government and institutional archives, historical societies, museums, libraries, universities, galleries, and private collectors since 1945. Founded in Arlington, VA, Hollinger Metal Edge first worked with officials at the Library of Congress and the National Archives to develop acid free papers, storage boxes, and envelopes that would allow for the proper preservation of documents and photographs. The company continues to introduce a wide variety of archival products for preservation of diverse materials. Their experienced management and staff are dedicated to quality, customer service, and competitive prices. For more information, visit www.hollingermetalede.com.

Located in Philadelphia, CCAHA is the country’s largest nonprofit conservation facility serving cultural, research, and educational institutions, as well as individuals and private organizations. CCAHA’s mission is to provide expertise and leadership in the preservation of the world’s cultural heritage. It specializes in the treatment of works of art and artifacts on paper, such as drawings, prints, maps, posters, historic wallpaper, photographs, rare books, scrapbooks, and manuscripts, along with related materials like parchment and papyrus. CCAHA also offers digital imaging services, on-site consultations, educational programs and seminars, and emergency conservation services.

Over 125 organizations are members of CCAHA, with membership open to all nonprofit, tax-exempt organizations, including museums, archives, libraries, historical societies, academic institutions, government agencies, and private foundations. Membership entitles institutions to benefits that include free consultations and condition reports; reduced registration fees to CCAHA-sponsored workshops and conferences; free subscriptions to technical bulletins, papers, and newsletters published by CCAHA; and access to CCAHA’s disaster services and library materials. To find out more or to join, visit www.ccaha.org.

 To access this discount, institutions must be current CCAHA members and place orders through Abby Shaw, Hollinger Metal Edge Eastern US Representative, at 215.625.4588 or abbyshaw@me.com.

###